

I will go back to school when all the germs have gone away